

Learning with Ignitia

A Parent's Guide

As a parent, you have priorities for your child's education. You expect courses that challenge, teachers who inspire, and learning opportunities based on a Christian worldview to prepare your child for a successful future, no matter where his path leads.

At Alpha Omega Publications, we understand that children learn best when we offer them more than information. We must provide them with Christian content that matters to them, delivered in a way that they understand, through a medium that makes sense in their world. That's why we created Ignitia.

Ignitia provides

- A complete online learning environment guided by teachers
- Challenging core and elective courses designed to meet the needs of every student
- Accurate assessments to ensure students learn at the appropriate level
- Engaging Bible-based lessons to hold students' interest and help them retain knowledge
- Digital content and multimedia features to make learning more compelling
- Customizable curriculum that allows every child to learn at his own pace
- Anytime access to remove time and space restrictions
- Student-driven assignments that encourage responsibility

Ignitia is an innovative online learning environment created for Christian schools and geared to provide a quality educational experience to students who are accustomed to using digital tools to access information and solve problems. As they are supervised by a teacher, students work through lessons independently until they achieve mastery.

As a primary curriculum or as part of a special learning program, Ignitia offers every child a path to academic success, supported by a foundation of faith.

"It's more than just a Curriculum for us. It's helping us change students' lives!"
